Chapter on Crime.

One of the cousequences of a long war, it is said, is a fearful increase and prevalence of vice and crime. This seems to be true of the terrible war through which our country has passed. Our exchanges bring us accounts of murder in different parts of the country, of every degree of atrocity, and suicides without number. Those who have an appetite for the details of horrible crime may surfeit themselves now with that sort may surfeit themselves now, with that sort of reading. Murders, suicides and rapes make up now in the way of sensations for the lack of battles and the casualties incident to war to which we have been accustomed for the last four years. From the Meriden (Conn.) Recorder we learn of a most may surfeit themselves now, with that sort den (Conn.) Recorder, we learn of a most but fiendish outrage upon a young lady near that town. She was going from her home to the house of a neighbor, and while passing through a wood was set upon by three persons, in soldiers' uniform, who stripped the clothing from her body, and they then in succession ravished her person. After gratifying their lust the inhuman wretches left their victim in an insensible, and in a perfectly nude state, carrying away with them her clothing. The Re-corder cautions the public against charging these acts upon the soldiers, as many of them sold their uniforms, and the ruflians have bought and wore them to prevent sus-This is but one of a number of such hendish acts that have been committed lately in different parts of the country. The Chester county (Ill.) Democrat, of the 22d, contains an account of the murder, near that town, of a widow woman, named Darwin, in the night while the victim was in her bed. The murderer effected an entrance into the house without arousing the trance into the house without arousing the missouri been in good working order, the Missouri been proper. ates, and cut the woman's throat while so that the signals could have be death, and then dragged her out upon the floor. The murderer has since been arrested. It was not known what instigated the man to commit the awful crime. The Fort Wayne, (Ind.) papers of the 23d contain the particulars of a tragedy in that A soldier named Cunningham, late of the 14th Indiana, returned to that place to find that his wife had turned his zeaceable home into a den of iniquity, and was living a life of shame. On the night of his return two young men, named Fisher and Murphy, who were in the habit of visiting the house, went there and demanded admittance, Cunningham ordered them away, and threatened to shoot them if they They refused, and he shot them both, inflicting mortal wounds. A Mrs. Davis, the wife of a shoemaker, living in Richmond. Ind., left her home some time ago on an errand, and was not seen again intil her remains, barely recognisable, were found a few days ago, in a secluded place not far from the town, where she had been murdered. The affair is wrapt in mystery. Such murders as these, committed in peace able communities, accounts of which come te us almost daily in our country exchanges, show the worst features of black crime They are not the result of brawls, which are of frequent occurrence in large cities. and often terminate in murder, but show the deliberate purpose to commit this most awful of crimes,

The Staggle.

The struggle for negro suffrage is a mere political struggle, when it is nothing but a social struggle—a struggle to eat, drink, and live with the white man—to herd with him, to intermarry with him—to become his tather-in-law, his son-in-law—in short a struggle for AMALGAMATION and MISCE-

GENATION.—[New York Express.

That is really the length and breadth, the hight and depth of the struggle. The political or suffrage question is the mere stepping-stone to the social platform. "Is he not a man and brother?" Then why any distinction projettically civilly or socially. distinction politically, civilly or socially? Quad erat? Amalgamation and miscegena-tion.—[Cincinnati Enquirer.

But facts completely upset these choice assertions. There were hundreds of cases of amalgamation in the South while slavery existed, where there was one in the free States. They occurred daily and unnoticed in slave-holding communities. And opposition to colored suffrage existed in the same degree that amalgamation did. No persons in the South were louder or more violent in denunciation of colored suffrage than the men who had colored mistresses Col. Richard M. Johnson, the man who killed Tecumseh, and the great leader of Southern Locofoco Democracy, whom the Cincinnati Enquirer supported for the Vice-Presidency in 1836 and 1840, lived in avowed and open concubinage with two colored la-dies, and had numerous children by them, and yet Col. Richard M. Johnson was a decided opponent of negro suffrage. By the way, Dick Johnson's mulatto children were genuine aristocrats. It is said that in 1840. one of them made a tour into Indiana, see what his Pa's prospects were. At a lit-tle country village he met the noted Jesse D. Bright, who approached him very pompously and said: "How are you, Sam? I know your massa Dick in Kentucky, very the insulted mulatto drew himself well." The insulted mulatto drew himself up and said: "Very likely, sah. A great many folks knows us Johnsons, that us Johnsons don't know!" The great Jesse dropped his head and hurried by.—[Nash-

Referring to a "mysterious affair," the Buffalo Express says, seriously:

The body of a man was recently found in a cask received by a druggist in Richmond, from Philadelphia. More than half of it had become a liquid mass, but traces of identity were found, which show that it was the body of Lynn C. Doyle, for several from Philadelphia. More than half of it had become a liquid mass, but traces of identity were found, which show that it was the body of Lynn C. Doyle, for several months occupying a room at No. 119 Market street, Philadelphia. The authorities are investigating the circumstances of the affair, which is at present shrouded in mystery.

In the midst of a stormy discussion, a gentleman rose to settle the dispute. Waving his hands majestically over the excited disputants, he began: "Gentlemen, all I want is common sense—" "Exact your downth." The discussion was lost in a burst of laughter.

Collision of Steamers St. Patrick and Missouri.

WILLIAM D. GALLAGHER, Surveyor or Customs—Sir: Herewith we present a re-port of the collision of these boats, with the yard. These signals are made by one or two sounds of the steam whistle as the parties first making them may decide, the one sound of the whistle means by the party making it, that he designs going to the right, and two sounds of the whistle means by the party making it, that he designs going to the right, and two sounds means that he designs go and two sounds means that he designs go-ing to the left; and Rule second of Pilots' regulations requires that they should be made when boats approach within eight hundred yards of each other, and should they be made and not properly understood both boats are required to stop their engines and set them back until their headway is entirely checked, and not start them ahead again until such signals are properly given entirely checked, and not start them anead again until such signals are properly given, and understood. The proof in the case goes clearly to show, that the pilot, Underwood, did comply with this rule, that he stopped the comply with the rule, that he stopped the comply with the require. the engines of the St. Patrick at the requis-ite distance and set her back, that her headway must have been entirely run out, or she would have been certainly sunk by coming in contact with so heavy and strong a boat as the Missouri. The proof on the part of the Missouri goes clearly to evince a disposition on the part of Weaver, the pilot thereof, to use such means as he had at command, and as his judgment prompted, yet that he erred in judgment and was unfortunate in make and answer these signals properly, no reasonable doubt can exist.

We say he was unfortunate in this case because the proof abundantly shows that the Missouri did, on the day before, from some mishan break her which is air. some mishap, break her whistle pipe di-rectly behind the valve, and between the valve and stuffing, or packing box of the rod that worked the valve, and they were unable from this cause to use it, as the engineer of the Missouri testified before us they were, in consequence of as he supposed the valve or seat being sprung by the break ing of the pipe. The error of judgment then, committed by Weaver, was in our opinion that knowing this fact that the sig nal he made by tapping the bell, which is amply proved he did, could not be heard at any great distance off, he should not but four revolutions back until they collided. Any practiced boatman will know that a boat running as fast as the Missonri does, can not be entirely checked up by four revolutions, although it may have been, and doubtless was much lessened thereby, and to this cause much lessened thereby, and to this cause may the saving of the St. Patrick be attrib-uted. We do not in this connection intend to reflect or assail in the slightest degree, the professional merits of Weaver as a pilot, his reputation in that line is a good one, but we contend that he erred greatly in judg-ment in allowing such a boat as he knew the Missouri to be, to approach so close to descending boat, and in a part of the river that he well knew there was danger of colli-sion, because of a bar on both sides of the river, restricting either of them from too close an approach to shore. We cannot, however, withhold from him the credit, ly made and in time, they would have been understood and acted upon and no collision would have happened.

We are, therefore, in view of all the circumstances narrated, and because the said Weaver did fail to stop his engines and se them back, at such distance below the des cending boat as is required in said second Rule of Pilots Regulations, compelled by law, to suspend his license to act as pilot of steamers for the space of sixty days from the date of this police.

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 29, 1865. Eps. Press: I desire to say a few words to the city authorities through your columns. I live on Jackson street, and on go ing home last night about 10 o'clock, I saw three men loitering around a certain block of buildings. They had been sitting on the door steps and walking up and down an alley, as if they intended no good, and at one time tried to open a door, during which time the ladies of the house were very much frightened. When I arrived and learned the above facts, I started after a watchman, I looked in vain for near ar hour, no watchman was to be found, and there was no signal known to me, nor to any whom I met, by which I could call a watchman. Now why is this? Why is there not some arrangement made for calling the police of the city when they are needed? In many parts of the city murder and robber could be carried on extensively, and the po-lice know nothing of it. They may be near enough to hear the cries of the murdered and robbed, and be in time to arrest the felons, but that is not the thing, there should be some provision made to arrest these crimes, for what consolation is there to a man consolation is there to a man in knowing that the felon is arrested after his purse and goods and all the felon is arrested. his purse and goods and chattels are gone, or what is worse, his life near taken, or to the friends of one who has been murdered; what consolation is their to know that the murderer is arrested; you cannot bring back a life though another is forfeited; now, why is there not a stop put to this prowling around the city after night, by men, who it is known, have no business. I know it cannot be decreased as not be done entirely, but the best effort should be made, I think, and one good effort, I know, would be to have some signal to call the police at all times. How or in what way this should be done, I will not pretend to say, but will venture the remark that if it is done, our city will hear of less crimes committed in her limits.

There was no particular harm done last night, by the persons spoken of, but it looked as if their intentions were to do harm, and it was very close to Mayor Tomppert's house, so he had better lookout. Yours, &c.,

[Paris Correspondence of the Liverpool Journal.]
The Duke of Brahant, sent to travel for his country's peace, is in Paris. It seems that a certain Madame Meyer, widow of a captain of artillery, who had claims upon the heart and heritage of old Leopold, but who had maintained the strictest incognito during the whole of his reign, had forgotten all discretion during his late illness, and, breaking through the restraint and etiquette she had hitherto observed, had insisted upon leaving the lodgings where she had resided for the last fourteen years, and taking her position at the palace, in order to watch more closely over the king. This move took place during the absence of the Duc de Brahant and the Count de Flandre, who on being roughly summoned home by telegraph, in order to assist, as was imagtelegraph, in order to assist, as was imag-ined, at Leopold's last moments, found, to their utter amazement, the lady installed in the palace, and Leopold, so far from think-ing his peace with heaven, entirely beat on making his peace with earth by a marriage with Madame Meyer, and a recognition of her son under the title of Count d'Ar-

The affair is hushed up as much as possible at Brussels, but it has got wind nevertheless. Negro Suffrage in the Past.

The Lebanon Star says that the journals of the first Constitutional Convention of Ohio, in 1803, show that universal suffrage in Ohio would have been adopted had three members of the Convention voted differently:

In the Convention, Jeremiah Morrow, Chairman of the Committee appointed to prepare the fourth article of the Constitu-tion, designating the qualifications of electors, reported in favor of giving the rights of electors to white male inhabitants only. A motion to strike out the word WHITE was lost by a majority of five only—the vote standing 14 to 19.

There were at this time probably about two hundred persons of color in the territory. A motion to give the right of suffrage to "all male negroes and mulattoes, now residing in this territory, if they shall within one year make a record of their citizenship with the clerk of the county where they may reside," was at first adopted, but afterwards on a motion to strike out this clause, the Convention was equally divided and the clause was struck out by the cast-ing vote of the President.

Only twelve members voted for universal suffrage in the Convention of 1850.

Mrs. Ritchie, in this last production of her pen, has seized upon one of the greaf lessons of the age—the necessity and the value of labor, and has waven from the control of the production of the productio value of labor—and has woven from it an entertaining romance. To that large class of young ladies who draw their mental of young ladies who draw their mental nourishment entirely from works of fiction, this volume will prove more healthy food than those paltry love-sick tales which encounter them on every side with their poisnous sweets.

We have here the story of a woman who, though compelled to forsake not only the man she loved, but home and friends, did man she loved, but nome and friends, did not think it necessary to abandon hope, but went bravely forth to work, and found it not impossible to lead a useful, and even happy life, after her brightest dreams had vanished.

Let our young countrywomen learn, then from Mrs. Ritchia that "labor is work."

then, from Mrs. Ritchie, that "labor is worship," and that it is, moreover, freedom and strength; that their happiness can rest only on the proper understanding and develop-ment of their own powers; and upon this foundation let them build their superstruc-ture of joy, or, at least, raise themselves above the inevitable disappointments of Hiram McElroy, Esq., a candidate for the Legislature in Union county, has been arrested by Col Johnston, as we learn by a letter from Owensboro. He is charged with saying, in a public speech, that "he owed no allegiance to the Federal Government, and that he intended to sell what he had left and leave the country."—[Democrat, July 21st]

In the meantime read this in all this is to impress the reader with the admirable letter of General Palmer's, and idea, first, that the arrest of McElroy is see if you think it possible for him to rescue despotic and unwarrantable, and second, that it is part of a system inaugurated and manifest and explicit duty to those whom enforced by the commander of the departthe nation has pronounced free: ment. The manner in which the "hope" is expressed that Gen. Palmer will do something about it, connected as it is with an accusing growl against Gen. Palmer's jurisdiction generally, conveys the unmistake-able insunuation that the editor don't hope To his Excellency Andrew Johnson, Presi-dent of the United States—Sir: I have al-nor expect anything of the sort. Now let us see what facts were in possession of the Democrat editor when he published the above statement and his comments thereon.

First, he knew that the charge against Mr. McElroy was somewhat different, and considerably graver than the one he quotes.

I ready by telegram acknowledged your dispatch of Mr. Price, which states that Provost Marshals issue "free papers" to negroes indiscriminately. I refer you to my dispatch, in which I say no "free papers" are issued by any officers of this Department, which, though literally true, does not quite meet the facts as they are.

considerably graver than the one he quotes. I forward you my General Orders, Nos. 32 and 49. Under these orders many passes have been issued by Provost Marshals, &c., to negroes, who hold them; and, I am told, That charge is that this "candidate for office, in a State under the Federal Government," announced in a public speech, that "he owes no allegiance to the Federal Government, that the only true friends the county ever had were the querrillus, and that he wanted to try and sell his property before the Government stole it all, and go to South America." This was the language reported to Col. Johnston, on such testimony as to wanted to try and sell his property before make him feel justified in ordering the arrest of the "candidate." And this the editor rest of the "candidate." And this the editor of the Democrat knew when he penned his version of it. In the second place he knew that Col. Johnston had promptly informed to go at large and hire themselves out as that Col. Johnston had promptly informed Gen. Palmer of his action, and that the latter had ordered him to investigate the evidence as to McElroy's seditious language, and report to him officially thereon without delay. that Col, Johnston had promptly informed

Would he have restricted his comment respecting the General's relation to the subject, to a dubious "hope" that he would correct such acts? Isn't it the least grain sneaking in this editor to treat the facts in his possession in such a manner? He knows as well as any one that martial law or that it was the intention of the Government to free them all, furnish them with food and clothing, and put them upon an equality with the whites. Invariably a conservative gathering in a neighborhood is followed by stampede of negroes.

M. B. BRANNAN IS WELL KNOWN, TO THE PEOple of the West-specially, as an artist, and an oceasioual contributor of poetry to the Press. His "Harp of a Theusand Strims," a burk-sque sermon, has been long recognized as the best of its class. The present volume is one of superior merit or the wit and humor of the Autobiography, the pathos, imagination and smooth versification of the occasional pieces seattered in profusion throughout. This work is destined to place Mr. Brannan high in the rank of American Poets, and to give him position as a leader among the Bards of the West. jy12-tf Proclamation.

To the Officers of Elections;

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, EXECU-TIVE DEPARTMENT, FRANKFORT, KY., July 19, 1865.—The purity of the elective franchise can only be preserved by a faithful enforcement of the laws governing the same. For their enforcement the officers will be held represent the officers. will be held responsible.

Every free white male citizen, 21 years of age, who has resided in Kentucky two years, and whose residence has been in the district where he offers to vote for 60 next next preceding the election; and each white citizen who, not having two years ence in the State; but has resided one year in the county, and sixty days in the precinct where he ofters to vote, next preceding the election, is entitled to vote; provided he has not expatriated himself and lost the elective franchise by coming within the provisions of the following act:

CHAPTER 509. An Act to amend chapter 15 of the Revised Statutes, entitled "Citizens, Expatriation, and Aliens."

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assem bly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That any citizen of this State who shall enter into the service of the so-called Confederate State, in either a civil or military capacity or into the service of the so-called Provis-ional Government of Kentucky, in either a civil or military capacity, or having here-tofore entered such service of either the Confederate States or Provisional Govern-ment, shall continue in such service after this act takes effect, or shall take up or continue in arms against the military forces of the in arms against the military forces of the United States or the State of Kentucky, or shall give voluntary aid and assistance to those in arms against said forces, shall be deemed to have expatriated himself, and shall no longer be a citizen of Kentucky; nor shall he again be a citizen, except by per-mission of the Legislature, by a general or special statute. SEC. 2. That whenever a person attempts, or is called on, to exercise any of the con stitutional or legal rights and privileges be-longing only to citizens of Kentucky, he may be required to negative, on oath, the expatriation provided in the first section of his act; and upon his failure or refusal t do so, shall not be permitted to exercise any such right or privilege.

SEC. 3. This act to be of force in thirty days from and after its passage.

All persons challenged as coming within the provisions of this law, should be required to take the following oath, prescribed by my predecessor, and which is in con-formity with the law: OATH.

"You do solemnly swear that you have not, since the 10th day of April, 1862, been in the service of the so-called 'Confederate States,' or in the 'Provisional Government of Kentalus', it is the service of the so-called the service of the service ucky,' in either a civil or military capacity, and that you have not given, directly or indicetly, VOLUNTARY AID AND ASSIST-ANCE TO THOSE IN ARMS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OR THE STATE OF KEN-TUCKY, or those who were intending to join the armed forces of the so-called 'Confederate States,' and that you will bear true and faithful allegiance to said Governments of the United States and State of Kentucky, so help ou GOD.

From North Carolina -- Unwise Use of the Pardoning Power---Pardoned Rebel Leaders Preparing to Control the State

RALEIGH, N. C., July 26 .- The Raleigh Progress continues to denounce the reck less use of the pardoning power in North Carolina. This misplaced leniency is making the leading rebels of the State, who are daily receiving pardons, still more defiant and disloyal than before, comprising the public men of the State; these have all become designated as delegates to the coming State Convention, which body it is known they will center.

The negroes and Union men are the special objects of their hatred, whose protection depends entirely upon the enforce-ment of the confiscation law, which disarms only the disloyal, who will be beyond the reach of the Federal authorities as soon as the new State Government is inaugurat-

It is understood the element who hold se curities for upwards of forty millions of dollars, contracted since the rebellion, for war purposes, will make strong effort to have the same assured by not providing against it in the new Constitution, but leaving it to future legislation.

Owing to this unexpected disloyalty and vindicative arrogance, Union men are ndeavoring to have the call for the State Convention delayed until after Congress meets, which will save time as well as expense, as the proposed Constitution is designed to be repudiated by the people, as its opponents will be of an obnoxious character individuals for the state of the state o ter, judging from the material to compose that body. These treacherous lawyers, who have been pardoned through Gov. Holden's recommendation, are now organizing in every county, and even assert that their party is strong enough to defeat Mr. Hol-den or any other candidate for Governor who fails to identify himself with them. Gov. Holden wrote out a call for a Conven tion some time since and sent it to President Johnson for his ratification, since then the opposition to an early Convention has assumed a formidable proportion, and is daily gaining strength.

Lieut .- Gen. Grant.

Boston, July 31.—To-day Lieut.-General Grant has been the guest of the city of Bos-ton. Leaving his hotel at quarter before 10 A. What the Rebellion has Cost the Southern People---Strength of the Rebel Army---Condition of Affairs in the South. NEW YORK, July 31 .- The World has a ong letter commenting on the condition of affairs in the South. It says the South had more than a million of men in the ranks. Six great States, Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina, have furnished from 85,000 to 120,000 men to the Confederate army, in-dependent of the militia. Louisiana, Ten-nessee, Texas, Arkansas and Florida, furnished from 50,000 to 80,000; Missouri and Kentucky 40,000 each; Maryland still less. Although the muster rolls the Adjutant General received contained only 450,000 names at the evacuation of Richmond, of which not quite half were on duty in the field, yet in January, 1863, the rebel army numbered 750,030 men, most of whom were numbered 750,030 men, most of whom were in actual service.

By laws subsequently enacted, every man capable to bear aims, excepting new civil officers and professional persons, was made a soldier. Although the list of exemptions, details for special service, and deserters, reached a point of absurdity, there was still a a large army, with sufficient equipments and a tolerable morale, in the field. Of this positival list can be approximated. From no actual list can be approximated. From the best judgments I have been able to establish a proportionate mortality, which

From Alabama -- Rebel Spirit Unsubdued New YORK, July 30.—The Herald's Huntsville, Alabama, correspondent giv-ing a sketch of the condition of the country, and of the present political feeling, he presents a picture in no way flattering to the loyal or the disloyality of such of the people of that State as took part in the rebel-lion at first, and on finding that all was over with their Southern Confederacy they felt themselves completely humiliated and subjugated, and were loud in their calls on the National Government and officers for mercy, but magnanimous treatment appears to have shielded them, and are again becoming as overhearing and as imperious in demands as ever, and now, instead of being contented with privileges, hautily claim their rights. Their hatred of the National Government is still as intense as the state was near Dalon, it looked finely.

The G-vernment was convinced of the bona fide character of the advances of Sturges & Son, of Chicago, and upon thorough examination of the entire assets it was found there was sufficient to pay the Gov-ernment its tax, without taking any of the high wines which Sturges & Son had so largely advanced by the arrangement agreed upon. The Government receves its tax, and the bankers who advanced upon the wines in good faith are protected.

COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY EVENING, July 31, 1865. The market to-day was less active than at the close of last week, owing chiefly to the Eeastern markets, also to the decline in gold to-day. Bread-tuffs are somewhat nsettled, with sales this morning at lower rates than prevailed on Saturday evening, while grain was not ma-terially varied in any particular, with a scarcity of good wheat. The mark t for groceries is quiet to-day, and Rio coffee was sold at lower rates. For bagging and rope there is an active demand at advanced rates, and he cotton market has a slight upward tendency. Green hides have declined, while tallow is a little stiffer. The market for raw whisky is in the ascendant, and prices re enhanced to-day in New York. Dispatches from Cincinnati to-day quote an advance in star candles, with sales at 26c for full weight, with a light stock on hand. That is equivalent to 211/8c for 13 o candles, and manufacturers here have advanced their rates to the same figure, with sales by the single box at The dealers in hardware, including tin ware and bras settles, &c , have been doing a very heavy business of iate, the increase in the imports being very heavy, with large sales of brass articles at the manufacturer's rates. The sales of ti, ware are also very heavy, including a lot of 5 0 boxes to-day to the Nashville trade. Our grocers are now in direct receipt of the best articles of wooden ware, including tubs and buckets, with a sale of a large lot of best painted buckets at $285 per dozen, which are lower rates than at any other point this side of Marietta. The supply of salt thus far this season by river from th Dhio Salt River Company, and the Kanawha Salines, has been 99,200 bbls since the last of March, with a stock not exceeding 25,000 bbls on hand.

The receipts of coal on the late run will not exceed 600,

000 bus els, and the shipments South in the meantime, on the rise, have been fully 600,000 bushels, leaving no actual ncrease of stock in this market. The tobacco market is r ther firm, the sales to day closing the month or July, with sales auring the month of 5,214 hhds at the four auction was chouses. The sales during the same month last year were 6,346 hhds, showing decrease this year, as compared with the past, of 1.73 The dis, atches to the Merchants' Exchange to day quoted gold in New York at noon at 143%, advancing to 143% at 1 P. M. The flour market was considerably ex-cited in the morning, and accurate quotations could not be made, but in the evening there was a moderate de mand at a dedline of 10 to 15c on Western brands. Wheat was inactie at a decline of 3c. Mixed corn was in moderate cemand at 91½c. Oats were dull at 64@65c. Mess pork, new, was dull, with more sellers than buyers, at $34 50. Lard was active at an advance of 14. Bad sides were dull and nominal at 17c. Whisky had an up-ward tendency, and held at $2 18. The cotton market was unchanged. Sugar active at 15%c for Porto Ricc and coffee at 21c. The money market is quite easy in a 1 respects, and the only change noticed by the bankers is a slight decline in the rate of gold. Eastern exchange is rather	scarce at

MONUMENT ASSOCIATION. TO THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Appeal in Behalf of the National Lincoln Monument

STATE OF ILLINOIS, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, SPRINGFIELD, July 14, 1865.

Officers and Soldiers of our Armies, and Officers, Marin and Sailors of our Navy: and Sailors of our Navy:

BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE NATION al Lincoln Mon. ment Association, I am requested to make an appeal to you to sid the noble or tripile we have in view, "To erect over their mains of Abraham Lincoln, our late President, a suitable and enduring monument to his memory."
I have chosen the present auspicious time to do so.
Your duties, voluntarily a sumed, to the National Governmant, are about t-minating, You are returning from victorious campaigns, and from a war now happily ended, in which, with Huk, you were all engaged, to save our country from derision, destruction and ruin; returning to enjoy the fuilts of victory, won under nis chief directors.

I have chosen the present auspicious time to do so. Your duties, voluntarily a sumed, to the National Governmant, are about terminating. You are returning from vicerious campaigns, and from a war now happily ended, in which, with mix, you were all engaged to save our carriers of the constitution—I head of the army and may; your constant, steady and intituit frend; your wise adviser, and your companion in all the trying and annoying difficulties which go to make up the fife of the solder, during the frightful period of real and terrible war. Thousands service, but many thousands more are waiting and preparing son to be. Your organizations will all, in a short time, have only an historical existence. You are to be scattered all over a peaceful country, in homes made happy by your own noble efforts. You live to enjoy, in all its spendar without his property of the prop

NOTICE.

The THOPE AFFLICTED WITH RHEUMATISM, Scroula, Gout, or Syphilis, I freely offer my leisure hours. For forty years past I have treated these cases with the most power ul combination in the veretable kingdom under which influence the werst forms of Syphilis have qui kly field d, and but few cases of likeumatism. Gout or Scrofala have long resisted its alterative and restorative powers. An I new to convince the silicted of the confidence I have in it, I say to them no cure no pay, and to avoid all quibble and unfairness of what constitutes acure, I repeat it that no demand will be made by me beyond their own judgment of cure, and their will and wish to pay. This I offer with the purest motives of humanity, knowing that there are many who have spent their last dollar, and whose clinging torments under despair are still dragging them down to the grave. To such I offer new hopes and a probable escape at my own expense.
